Quiz Bowl Scores in National Championship

by Erik Dell

Despite its much derided athletic record, Caltech does not get brutally crushed in all contests of skill and prowess. In fact, sometimes they get to do some of the brutal crushing. On April 3-5, the National Quiz Bowl Tournament was held at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee. Graduate students Richard Mason, Chris Nolte and Maribeth Swiatek, and freshmen Michael Schein placed 8th. Out of 800 questions in the tournament, apparently there was a rash of chlamydia - controversy, that is. Anecdotally, one participant was quoted as saying "I've got it! I've got it!", and there was a large debate via email prior to the competition as to the exact nature of the bacterium. Furthermore, "chlamydia cost us a game," as one team member put it. Caltech lost to Arkansas in overtime due to confusion over the organism's life cycle.

Overall the team was pleased with its performance. Initially, they were ranked 20th, so finished better than expected. In the very last round, they defeated Maryland, whom they had lost to several times in the tournament. Also, they noted that some of the best teams, including Stanford, Harvard, and Chicago, were a bit weak in science. "Unfortunately, all the questions were not science," Perhaps if they had been, the carnage Caltech wrought might have been complete.

International Week will include food, music, dance

by Shannon Stewman

This year the traditional activities of International Day have been extended to an entire week. The program, called International Week, is co-sponsored by the Caltech Y and the Office for International Programs. International Day has moved from its traditional location on the Olive Walk to the Avery Courtyard. Its usual activities, including the passport-based meal, have been expanded to include three hours of continuous music collected from different parts of the world, both Indian and Korean dances, and a drawing contest. The new International Week will be filled with movies, lectures and performances. Dr. Jean-Max Guieu, a Professor of French from Georgetown, will be giving a lecture on the Dreyfus case Tuesday, April 13. Dr. Guieu is staying in Avery, and students interested in having dinner with him should talk to Sue Friedman, of Residence Life. On Thursday, Dr. Alice Huang will be giving a talk entitled "Your Future and the Pacific Rim" at noon in Steele House. Later in the day there's also a seminar at 6:00 p.m. in Steele House on the Japan Internship Program. Students previously in the program will be giving talks on their experiences. The seminar will be followed by a sushi making demonstration given by Dr. Hirata and dinner. The week wraps up on Saturday with Sports Day at Brown Gym. The sports of Floorball, Volleyball, Cricket, and Badminton will be followed by an ethnic barbeque.

International Day has moved from its traditional location on the Olive Walk to the Avery Courtyard.

In last issue the Fellowships Advising and Resources Office was identified as being part of the Career Development Center. This is not the case, the two bodies are totally separate entities. The Tech regrets the error.
WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Department of Defense, State and Justice are to devise a plan to arrest and try Pot Pol, the Khmer Rouge leader held responsible for the deaths of up to millions of Cambodians. The Thai Government offered to take Pot Pol into custody if the U.S. and United States would immediately take charge of him and remove him.

JERUSALEM, ISRAEL - The Palestinian group Hamas called on Arab and Muslims worldwide to attack Jewish targets in revenge for the death of its chief bomb maker last month. Hamas has blamed Israel for the death although the Palestinian Authority found it was the result of conflict within the organization.

BELFAST, NORTHERN IRELAND - The British and Irish Prime Ministers met yesterday to work out disputed issues for a midnight deadline on the peace agreement. Leaders hope to renegotiate the peace proposals rejected Tuesday for a mutually acceptable agreement.

FREETOWN, SIERRA LEONE - Thousands of refugees are fleeing rebel attacks in Sierra Leone and going to Guinea. Over the 35 mile journey hundreds have died. Already 50,000 Sierra Leoneans are housed in refugee camps in Guinea.

PORT KLANG, MALAYSIA - Hundreds of Indonesians are migrating to surrounding countries to escape the economic troubles of their own country. Malaysia is sending them back in what some call "Operation Get Out!", but 300 more arrive every day.

JAKARTA, INDONESIA - The International Monetary Fund came to a new settlement with Indonesia with new conditions for the $43 billion in aid. The new agreement allows subsidies of food and fuel to continue because of the threat of an anti-government riot should they stop.

IHC minutes 04/02 New IHC meeting room: SAC 33 present: ALL+ BALDIE+ MICHAEL (JUST ARE SOME PRETZELS), LAUCUS couldn’t find the new room.

Discussed prefrosh rules (in effect until they contact Caltech, 4/30 then rotation rules in effect). Decided (1) That stating an opinion about any house is OK so long as statement is clearly framed as a personal opinion and (2) That any communication about strategies of ranking houses, future or past picks, or active recruitment for a house is a violation. These are guidelines for Pre-Frosh Weekend. We should be trying to help the Pre-Frosh evaluate Caltech as a whole. It should not be viewed as a chance to recruit new members for a house. (For a more complete guideline, refer to your little t, page 286-287)

All of the prefrosh weekend house events were approved: Ultimate frisbee (BI); Tie-dye house events were approved: AMERICAN (JUST PRESENT: LUCAS)

For the first question of my column, I thought that I would answer “What is new for third term?”

The answer is LOTS! For starters, omelette day has been augmented. We have instituted 2 new bars. Along with omelette day, we will now have wrap day and sushi day! Wrap day was introduced in Blacker this past Wednesday and was enjoyed by most everybody. Look out for it.

Another addition to the board program this term will be the return of the In N’ Out van. We will be ordering the double van so hopefully the line won’t be as long as last time. We also will have an Olive walk barbecue dinner as well.

So there is much in the works. As always, if you have any questions for this column or about the board program in general, please email tytell@cco.

She is gone totally commercial. The BoD votes ing to foot half of the $2,200 cost for the Tech into a summary of the results of the Capra Retreat. Look for it soon in a school newspaper near you.

Pins/Patches - Baldeep asks Jaideep to ask Audrey to store the athletic letters and the associated pins in SAC 33 so we can keep a close eye on them. You can never be too careful around athletic awards. Remember what happened to Ralph? That's not going to happen to me. No way.

Lee Reavis - Jaideep re­quests $100 to get a plaque for Lee. Reavis. The BoD votes 7-0-0 in approval.

Phones: The ASCIT extension have been canceled. Only Baldeep's number will be affected.

Budget - The Y submitted a funding proposal form after the established deadline. It makes more sense for the Y/ASCIT financial relationship to work over in one direction. They ask us for funding every year and then we turn around later and ask them to support some of our activities. The BoD votes 6-0-1 (Jaideep abstains) to not fund the Caltech Y this fiscal year. Because of a miscommunication, no represent­ative from Faceplant was able to attend the budget meeting. It was decided at the meeting not to allocate any money to Faceplant. The BoD agrees that this new information does not warrant changing the previous decision. Rob moves that the new budget be approved as written. Steve seconds. The BoD votes 7-0-0 to approve the budget. They celebrate by jub­

Big T - The editor and business­man of the 98-99 book still need to be appointed. Interested individuals can nominate themselves by signing up on the door of SAC 33.

Ballots - Old records indicate that ASCIT owned some sailboats that were left in the care of the Sailing Club. If someone is so inclined, he can look into what happened to the ASCIT Ar­

Officer Reports: Steve - The BoD will eat in Page on a date selected by Steve.

Autumn - Has caught a nasty case of dhatu fever. She talked to physical plant and purchasing about the spectrum of electric vehicle options at our disposal. After selling the van, ASCIT will have about $5000 available for getting a vehicle. She needs to get some information about maintenance costs, but everything is looking good. Jasmine looked at some information about golf carts but doesn't have any numbers. Autumn moves that the BoD sell the old ASCIT van as it is completely useless to us. Rob seconds, and the measure passes 6-0-1 (Mike abstains). Autumn may be able to get a sales representative to come to Tech and give us a demonstra­tion of the available dhatu models. I feel a demolition derby coming on. Autumn moves that the BoD should raise the price of copies on the ASCIT copier from 6.5 to 7 cents. Jaideep seconds. This increase will gener­ate more revenue and still keep the cost of copies less than what you can get anywhere on cam­pus. The BoD votes 6-0-1 (Mike abstains) to pass this measure.

Jasmine - Blacker is having a big party or something. They will make use of the ASCIT lights. Residence Life sponsored Social Team training was today. Kim is interested in organizing a social event with some other school. There will be early morning donuts next Thursday so the prefrosh can get a taste of mob violence and glutinous excess - Caltech style (you don't love me).

Jaideep - Is up to his neck in Prefrosh Weekend. The ad­missions people are very pleased with the prefrosh committee. The IHC may make this a permanent institution by adding it to their documents. There was a meeting today of the IHC and the admissions folks. Admissions wants us to keep the prefrosh on campus if possible. The IHC will be going over the Rotation rules and their application to Prefrosh Weekend in their next meeting. More information about the Big T of ancient lore is coming to light. Details coming soon to a hillside near you.

Rob - Still working on a database to store ASCIT's financial data. Working on getting the dues check for this term. Alun, Baldeep, and Rob need to get together and go to the bank to change over signing power on our accounts. The publications seem to be on stable financial footing.

Mike - A new roster will be out soon. The budget is done. It is available on the web and will be published in the Tech. Working on a big list of proposed by­laws and a list of ratifications for the decisions made during the budget meeting.

Alan - Has a meeting with Kim on Thursday to discuss is­sues of BoC/Res Life jurisdic­tion. There is concern that some issues are bypassing BoC con­sideration altogether when they are passed straight to the Res Life office. The BoC web pages will be updated soon.

Baldeep - Meeting with the Deans on Tuesday, Dr. Brennen on Wednesday, and the Alumni Association on Friday. Everyone on the BoD is listed as a contact person for prefrosh who have questions about ASCIT. Baldeep is listed as a contact person for prefrosh who have questions about getting 'some good livin' at Caltech. Working with Puneet on the coffeehouse profitability study. In days gone by, the ASCIT President flew around the country to advertise for Tech. Whatever.

Meeting adjourned at 23:30.

Respectfully submitted,

My head is spinning; there is too much going on. Hey you guys, it is springtime, but please rest in your horses, cow, there is too much going on! I just finished looking at overload petitions. Wow! all those people with GPAs around 4 who need to take 30 units or their lives will not be worth living. Well not 80 units, may be just 65, but you get the flavor of the argument. They write "this is my only chance to take this course, as Prof. S. will be away next year. Study in snow continents will not be worth living. We'll get the ing at overload petitions. Wow! all take this course, as Prof. much going on rein your horses.

"Let far load permission is just the macha! need this course as a prerequisite where hard work, even if not reasonable only a means of garnering the students who will-the blooms which are opening every one's satisfaction. All the concerns which we hoped for the course, it is how big has been faced with the rights of the individual, the needs of one person against the curiosity of the many. And sometimes there are more than two sides to every story, more than two ways to look at things and it may become impossible to solve a problem to everyone's satisfaction. All the choices may have unpleasant consequences.

To take examples away from computer science and knowledge all the talk about possible inappropriate behavior by President Clinton. Do I really care to know about his alleged sexual escapades? Is it important for everyone to be exposed to as yet unproved accusations, especially when they could well be politically motivated? In many ways I would say no, but then I am not so sure.

Consider the revelations in a previous case, that one about Clarence Thomas, who was being considered for appointment to the US Supreme Court and was accused by previous employees of making sexual advances. Whether these accusations were based on true incidents or not, was never resolved. However the fact that accusations were lodged did much to raise our consciousness about the problems of relations between boss and employee. So true or not, these revelations have led us to appreciate a problem which had not been as emphasized before. Can the subordinate complain or take other action against the Lord and Master without risk of reprisal? Can the boss make what is thought to be an innocent compliment, without being imagined to be too forward? Can the boss make inappropriate comments and hide them under the guise of humor? What are the rules about interactions between boss and students. Upperclassmen students and Frosh etc? Hey you, my head is spinning, take it easy, behave how I would, you would, like that, no problem? In the words of the Sage: "Be reasonable, do it my way," and a bientot!

Caltech 1a

You will be Assimilated 1E-9 units (yes, its under united. Get used to it!); pre-first term only. Prerequisites: Extreme infidelity. Extreme foolishness. Permission of Admissions. Course will facilitate smooth incorporation into the Caltech community along with corresponding withdrawal from reality. Instructions will be implanted in the subconscious such that students have an inexplicable urge to work for weeks on end, without interruption. Subject may begin hearing "voices". Cerebral chemistry will be altered to facilitate the new schedule, as well as increase efficiency, such that 37 hours of problem sets may be compressed into only 29 hours daily. Complaint reflex will be modified to enhance whining and apathy while minimizing any actual action. Side effects may include interruption or elimination of sleep patterns and reduced verbal skills. Some subjects have experienced extreme aversion to sunlight and/or social interaction. This phase to be implemented in subsequent terms with special Caltech Food Services diet. Final phase before release into the community will include implantation of a small microtransmitter at the base of the neck. This device will cause sensations of extreme pain and guilt if any effort is made to leave campus boundaries.

Location: You only thought it was on Catalina Island. Instructor: Staff.

No, not that strange. Actually, all of our parties revolve around eunuchs.

Paid? Well, it always seemed so much fun for everyone involved, payment never came up.

Types of jobs? Whoa—that's a little graphic, don'tcha think?

Graphic samples? Well, there're probably some on the House website.

Done on SG1? Yeah, I heard that's some great stuff, but I can't get that kinda money...

Sure, you could say I prefer Max.

Ricketts' Trial of the Wheel

Last week, Kenneth Kuo perpetrated the most horrific crime of abducting Ricketts' sacred "Wheel of Pain" not once, but twice. Upon hearing the news—which apparently travelled slower than a bulldozer—Mike Astle, president of Rickets, took swift action to address the issue for his appearance. Mr. Kuo arrived in Ricketts courtyard alone, minutes before dinner. After a nice Ricketts-style dinner, Mr. Kuo had to face the Rickets Grand Inquisition. After hearing out suggestions of "death by masturbation" and the like, the Rickets officers elected to be more lenient, gracious even.

House president Mike Astle then handed the proceedings over to secretary Ishmael, who read the following decree: "Yes. We are honored to have Kenneth here at dinner tonight, because several of us were thinking how clever he was to get away with stealing our

News from Blacker

Of Poleaxs and Movies

The Blacker House Secretary will be purchasing a poleax to facilitate all further House roompicks. He’s in 41, so Carrera, watch out.

The ASCIT movie this week is Outbreak. Remember to yell “Focus!” If you yell loudly enough, they might even show the ASCIT short. Heh.

Saturday there is a party. Half the House thinks it sucks. The other half doesn’t. See the flyer below.

The good news is that flame rate appears to have dropped. Ricketts and Dabney may have taken up the slack.

There were no scandals this week in the Big T. Thank you, Mr. Strauss.

ASCIT has several social activities coming up.

ASCIT Doughnuts: ASCIT SUDDS on the Olive Walk, Thursday Night/Friday Morning of Prefrosh Weekend at 1 AM.

ASCIT Prefrosh Party: ASCIT Prefrosh Party, Dabney Hall, Saturday of Prefrosh Weekend, 9pm-2am. We have planned D.J.’s Rik and Christoph spinning up a mix of techno, house, and industrial. Although there were grand plans for a MOSH pit, regulations on construction in Dabney Hall prevent this.

ASCIT Formal: The ASCIT Formal will be held at the Wyndham Hotel in Monrovia this year, on May 22.

Signups will go up in the houses and Avery in May.

ASCIT Spring Party: As Jasmine has promised earlier, there will be an ASCIT-sponsored Spring Party this term. The date is still up in air.

In the past, the Social Budget has allocated $150 per house per term for interhouse events. Thanks to Jasmine, the all new Social Budget has increased this to $200 per house per term. So, keep throwing those whopping social events and pick up your checks!

And don’t forget, the ASCIT party lights and fog machine are available for rental. Contact sekamina@ugcs for services.

Wheel of Pain twice, without our even noticing. And so to show our admiration, we were considering loaning him the Wheel of Pain (since he seemed to have interest in owning it), except for one thing: we weren’t sure that he would know how to use it properly. In light of this, we shall now demonstrate the exact use for the Wheel of Pain.

At this point, a ‘updated’ Wheel of Pain was revealed. In demonstration it was spun and as if by miracle, landed on ‘Three More Spins.’ Continuing with the example, the wheel was spun thrice more.

The first landing on ‘Rudds named Kenneth and/or Kuo,’ so dear Mr. Kuo was unmounted with a pitcher of cold water by the dutiful Ricketts waiting staff. The next was ‘Kenneth Kuo with powerade,” and Mr. Kuo was baptized with the neon blue liquid ‘beverage.’ The third stopped at ‘Kenneth Starr, failing that, Kenneth Kuo,’ and Mr. Kuo was once again rinsed with water; this time vegetables and various other foodstuffs included.

As a final ceremony, Mr. Asle dumped his own special blend of Wednesday night’s dinner and ice on Mr. Kuo. Mr. Kuo was then rinsed with cold water and sent on his way.

If you yell loudly enough, they might even show the ASCIT short. Heh.
