Beavers, Waves Clash In Closing Game Of Season
Techmen Unruffled By Pep's Grid Record

Coadjutant with the shifting of Caltech's intercollegiate athletics to the fall and the growth of the Institute's most important "tradition"—the Varsity Banquet—is being revived.

This year's event—first since the return to "normal"—will be held Monday evening, December 10, in the Grace M. and Russel S. Bridges Room of the LAFCO Hotel as usual. Pep's Grid Record and the Techmen will contribute a lot of fun to the occasion.

The Techmen, who are now the House Executive officers, will assist in the planning and carrying out of the event. They have been working hard on the program and have promised some surprises.

Ticket sales are in progress and are expected to be brisk. Members of the Varsity Club are entitled to first choice of seats. All interested Techmen are urged to purchase their tickets soon. Ticket prices are $5.00 per person.

Dinner Postponed

The Techmen banquets this Friday and Saturday evenings have been postponed because of conflicting schedules.

Reinstate N.S.L.I. Now

Is your National Service Life Insurance paid up to date? Do you, that have let your policies lapse. Know that by paying only two months' premium, one for the month of lapse (show period), and one for the current month, you can apply for reinstatement of your insurance (without a physical examination) provided your health is as good as when the policy was dropped?

This can be done until the first of February, next year. After reinstatement, or if you have kept your premiums paid up, there are several desirable policies you may select in converting your N.S.L.I. policy such as 20 payment life, 30 payment life, and endowment.

Pay Insurance With Terminal Leave Bonds

Many of you are paying, or have received your Armed Forces Terminal Leave Bonds. These can be turned in for payment of premiums, or for reinstatement of N.S.L.I. This may be done at any of the VA branches, or you may send the bonds direct to the N.S.L.I. office in New York City.

See the VA Training Officer

If you are a training officer, requests that all students trained under Public Law 286 see him within the next 10 days. Bring your "C" number. He will be in Los Angeles from 8:30 to 5:30 on Wednesdays and from 8:30 to 11:30 on other days.

The remaining 31 were distributed among the isolationists and the intermediates of the above groups.

This poll was taken purely as a cross section, although it is possible that many sections were not touched. It apparently shows that Tech men are largely aware of the world political situation, but hold by the most appear serious.

There were several objections to the way in which the questions were set forth, but must do with forming the conclusions.

Homecoming at Eastern Illinois State Teachers College got more than its share of publicity when Jannah Fote designed this hat showing highlights of the event. Represented are the homecoming queen, her attendants, the drum majorettes, a bier for Normal University and folk-lore singer Burl Ives with his "blue-tail" fly.

Holder of four degrees from Harvard and Chicago and youngest man of Colgate University's 106-man faculty, Dr. A. Peter Ruderman, 22, is shown here teaching an economics class. Of his 118 students about half are older than Dr. Ruderman.

Irish Told, "Go to Blazes!"

Anywhere else in the United States "go to blazes" could be justifiably construed as a left-handed remark, but at Notre Dame it means the local fire house. For here is one of the few college-owned and operated fire fighting organizations in the country.

It got its start in 1939 when the state fire marshal pointed out to Brother Borromeo the many fire hazards that were otherwise invisible to the average person. He found himself a deputy marshal in charge of fire prevention and fighting.

The Brothers who man the fire station are on call 24 hours a day whether working in other departments on campus, eating or sleeping. At left one of the Brothers comes down the pole in best professional style.

Frosh Frolic

Freshmen at Rhode Island State College must spend one day a year entertaining upperclass members. Costumes vary from fashions to fads as each frosh tries to surpass her classmates. Above a lovely coed struts her stuff in a sleek raven velvet. At right the mood is more fun than fashion and ranges from bags to black face. But no matter how exciting the event, there is always time for refreshments.
FLYING FAMILY

Attractive 18-year-old Nancy Spencer, Pennsylvania State College sophomore, got off to a flying start with several solo flight hours to her credit and is scheduled to receive her license soon. Not to be outdone by her daughter, Herbert L. Spencer, president of Bucknell University, started taking lessons in his Piper Cub. He now makes his business trips by air whenever possible.

The question, "Will he make that kick?" stands out on the faces of gridders and coach alike as members of the Southeast Missouri State College football team of Cape Girardeau wait for the ever-important point after touchdown.

In another week, practices has been devoted to the sharpening of the Tech passing attack, which hit a few snags last Saturday, and ball handling on the ground to prevent costly fumbles. Time was also spent on defensive work against the Wave formations, with the Freshman team lining up the plays.

"Russia No Threat At Present"—Vieg

"Demonstrate Democracy's Power To World!"

The best way to worry about Russia is to make Democracy work in the United States. If, though we have all the resources and odds in our favor, we unofficially have, we have a world of unemployment, we will have shown that we cannot guarantee our citizens security or well being. Democracy will be discounted, and we will be fertile soil for the seeds of Communism and Fascism. The two, the latter is more to be feared.

There were the words of Dr. J. A. Vieg to the YMCA "Threats to World Peace" forum last Monday night.

LITTLE TO Worry About At Present—If...

"We should not judge the future by Russia's present strength but right now we have more wealth and power than they, so we should walk the earth like we own it, not holding our heads and stopping every block to find out if we will make the corner."

Dr. Vieg, after tracing the history of Russia, said he takes seriously the promise of a happier people in its embattled 106th constitution. "The revolution was launched on the promise of freedom, and has to make good," he stated.

"We see future developments," Dr. Vieg continued, "England's combination of Democracy and socialism illustrates that the two elements are not necessarily in conflict.

Drake and Yates Hinkly singing as Army and Navy fly boys—Bob Stockley claims he always loved them. These girls sang "Happy Birthday to You" at the World Peace forum—Did Barry Schuyler, Bill Bottalota and Dave drive to L. Jolla after the James as planned.

Musical Baedeker

Only a few weeks ago I mentioned that all was not well with the band of Harry James. James has always played his version of shanzies with the money angle in view; he cannot be blamed for that. He has always attempted to play what he believed the public liked; he certainly cannot be blamed for that.

The Music Makers fed the public what it wanted, but their leader failed to realize that the public also wants a band that keeps up with the times. James was flexible enough, year after year the band played the same old stuff, and the best musicians and their ideas were kept in the background: consequently, people got tired of Harry James. During its recent engagement at the Meadowbrook in Culver City, the band brought box office receipts to an all-time low.

James had the choice of getting on the ball or quitting. Apparently he has decided to retire to his horses and Grable, for trade talk has it that he will do both. The same fate now awaits another stagnant musical unit—that of Benny Goodman.

Tuckers in Town

The latest word for dancing around town are the bands of Bob Crosby at the Avalon and Musso and Frank in the Meadowbrook. Crosby has dropped his exciting Dixie books and has set the stage to straight dance music. Musso, the tenor saxist who created quite a furore as a sideman in the bands of Benny Goodman and Stan Kenton, has a new swing outfit, and the popularity of which is yet to be determined. For those who like a tick in their beat, there is the choice of Orrin Tucker at the Casa Gardena or Tommy Tucker at the Palladium. The musical event to watch out for, however, is the opening of Frank Stanzi at the Avalon on December 10th.
