If he would rather work three hours in the shop on a free afternoon, let him do it, providing only that these hours a week are put in.

As things are now, there will be many who will not do that well in this work. But a minimum must be put in, and this brings out the fact that the school believes they are of significant value in an education, and merit an average of six hours a week in everyone’s life. There are many classes that enter into such activities as we now have, and they are glad to enrol their time in this manner. The effect of this is more important c) those three hours of work in the shop or whatever must meet the student. They are learning the problems of this life.

In introducing this program the unit will not have to be lessened. Unhappily will need some rearrangement, but we now have two or three per week and that of the time of these could be taken for Fourth Hour activities with an automatic excuse on any day an assembly is scheduled.

Talkin' It Over

The Game

Happened to be gathered with the small group of fans who were cheering the Varsity fighters on to their first victory of the Spring season this morning.

For those of you who didn’t happen to make it out to T.J. Thursday I might add that the rough-house was on full strength between all the Varsity sports. In a matter of a few minutes there was a headlock between the football team and swimming, they were both trying to get in a few moves on each other. Between the two there was a lot of body and soul flying. There was a lot of holding on to each other and friendly buffeting. The basketball people were fighting over the basketball. The tennis team was working on the Varsity and swimming. And the baseball team was fighting among themselves.

Stars

Dapper Dennis Logan always kept his handsome face intact this time, but managed to play a brilliant defensive game as he sent many of the opposition home rousing their battered bodies. In the guard spot, Fourth Fred Dalin, with about fifteen more pounds under his belt (and other places) looked like a small pile driver as he constantly broke through to nab the runner for big losses. There is a boy that has really grown and should be counted on to bolster our line this year (Powell). Henryman made a great effort on the center position and for novices did exceptional discus.

Offense

On the offense John Lewis, up from the fresh, looked like a home run hitter. Constanzo, an uncorrupted Mind’s line and secondary for long gains (Continued on Page 4)
