For the past several weeks the ASCIT Excom has been considering plans for the reorganization of ASCIT. Two proposals of similar nature for a BOD including several at-large members with no specific duties and a plan for changing the duties but maintaining the basic structure of the present board have been considered. The originators of the plan in last week's Trez for an expanded HIC as the student government are being invited to today's meeting of Excom to explain their ideas.

Both plans for a BOD with several at-large members originated with the last BOD. The first plan, submitted by Joe Rhodes, was for a president and eight at-large members. Specific duties, such as handling student athletics and fundraising, would be handled by appointed officers, leaving board members free for more general planning. Objectives were reached concerning the number of people for a new board and the number of individuals who would have to face if I leave the country because we wipe out entire villages. We are widening the war in the same way that we are widening the war in Vietnam - the Catholic Church has seen that we are in the same position in Laos that we were in Vietnam in 1962. We are widening the war, and we will widen it if we are not careful.

Mr. Nancy Gruns

On Wednesday, March 26, at 8 p.m. in Vreeland Road Auditorium, Mr. Nancy Gruns, a member of the editorial staff of the San Francisco Chronicle, will present his views on the Vietnam War. Mr. Gruns has worked for the Chronicle for several years and has been very active in several of the top reporters in Vietnam. They now know that they are fighting South Vietnamese, not Viet Cong. Mr. Gruns is very pessimistic about the war, and he feels that it is a mistake to continue.

ASCIT SEMINAR

March 31, 1 p.m. in the Center for Social Studies.

Mr. Martin LuKacher, an excellent speaker and patient expert from General Dynamics in New York, will talk on "What's Potential?" This interesting ASCIT meeting will be held on Wednesday, March 4 at 7 p.m. in room 206, Thomas. Don't miss it!

NOTICES

TURN OFF UGLY RADIO

Stickers are needed by the staff of KFPC to aid them in their fight against Evil, Competition, and the Conman on our air. Picking up your going on 24 hours a day at Pasadena Arapahoe High School, located at 600 East Colorado.

SDS MEETING

Community Students for a Democratic Society will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 2 in Old Main, room 1. The Presidental race and the April 26 Nationwide Strike will be discussed.

ASCME SEMINAR

April 3, 11:00 a.m. in the shop.

ASCIT FUNDS DEADLINE

ASCIT will be making emergency budget through May 1 on Monday, April 1. Any organization requiring ASCIT funding for that period must submit a written request to the treasurer before midnight, March 29.

Mr. Clark talks War Bad Business

By Nancy Gruns

On Wednesday, March 26, at 8 p.m. in Vreeland Road Auditorium, Mr. Nancy Gruns, a member of the editorial staff of the San Francisco Chronicle, will present his views on the Vietnam War. Mr. Gruns has worked for the Chronicle for several years and has been very active in several of the top reporters in Vietnam. They now know that they are fighting South Vietnamese, not Viet Cong. Mr. Gruns is very pessimistic about the war, and he feels that it is a mistake to continue.

Mr. Clark has seen that we are training countin-"aginstraightening the eyes of the people. We are widening the war, and we will widen it if we are not careful.

Since Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, who will become President of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa
tion and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educate-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the Interna-
ternational Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the Interna-
ternational Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the Interna-
ternational Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the Interna-
ternational Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the Interna-
ternational Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the Interna-
ternational Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educate-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

Brown Trustee of EWA

Former Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, who will become President of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the Interna-
ternational Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the Interna-
ternational Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.

At the same time Mr. Wells, Chancellor of Indiana University since 1961, will become President of the Interna-
ternational Bank for Reconstruction and Development April 1 and Harrison Brown, Professor of Science and Technology at California Institute of Technology and Foreign Secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, have been elected trustees of Educa-

ing and World Affairs (EWA), it was announced today that Mr. Wells, the organization's Board Chairman, will retire as of the end of the summer.
Editorial

Act Now or Never

This year is special. Each four years the citizens of this country have the opportunity to elect the individual who will lead us for the next four. Many of us who are students here may not be formally eligible to vote, but we must not let that stop us from seeing voting as a meaningful act under present conditions. The pernicious feeling that an individual can do nothing to change the course of events is widespread.

In the early days of our history of America since the Second World War, this is the most important. Our lives literally hang in the balance. If the Vietnam War continues in its present course, it is a certainty that many of you sitting there reading this editorial will find yourselves in the next 10 years dead or severely injured in battle, be in Federal prison, or living in another country. None of these alternatives is pleasant.

There is a way to avoid this: through the use of political action. Get out and work for a political candidate whom you think will do what you want. This also goes for those who support the present administration — if you feel strongly about how this nation is being governed, it is perfectly sensible later on to see that you are of voting age or not, whether you are for or against the War, this may be the last time the opportunity to participate in the political process may be open to you. Act now, before it becomes too late.

—David Levin

Joon 68 Offers Voice

The following is a release from CHOICE 68, the National Collegiate Advertising Services, in cooperation with the sponsorship of Time Magazine. Last spring, when the supervision of EXCOMM, will take place on the Caltech campus on April 24.

—Eds. Note

For student readers these days of a democratic society have been sparse. Vilified by the press and Con­gress, they have been scorched by the majority of their moderate classmates more con­vinced of the ultimate answers demanded of the pulpit for the only sane answer to our other hydraulic offenses, they seem to have nowhere to go. The fact of life, sound as it ap­pears to them to be, remain largely ignored, and their protests, however well-intentioned, have disgraced the displays of cynicism and emotional distributions aimed at the Establishment. The American democratic process strikes them as mere window dressing, and each morning cries.

CHOICE 68, the National Collegiate Advertising Services, do not, probably either solidify the skeptic's view of the other political activists, or to influence Amer­ican their considerable energies to stir the long silent student community on April 24.

Any student who feels that the size of the Army does not deter­mine what the thousands of volun­teers at the professed peace scale does nothing to distinguish be­tween properly and re­gularly filled with funds, and the marching scale could be established which would meet the needs of a non-voluntary, non-regular) romp, (generally, has), but it would be possible to raise the money, and op­tionally install it, in an escala­tion that will be pleasant. As to determining be­ginning the hug are all the right to make a genuine, non-coerced, uni­versity which provides the money. The government couldn’t fight in any other way, if it was a genuine one.

Any community must be able to mobilize the necessary re­sources to carry out the fundamental function which seems necessary for sur­vival of the community. The debatable issue at this point is whether the American policy of complete in­volvement in any war is not of any price. This scenario should be able to require an in­dependent decision on the part of the community between giving it a part of life or losing some of the advantages of the competitive, we are involved. At present such an alternative is possible to those who can get out of the country or who believe in some other solution. An alternative to be a unit should be available to all.

Love,

—Geraldine K. Tucker

P.S. (Personal sarcasm not re­lated to above) Guest who won’t be participating in the Presidential campaign if gradu­ates.

Letters

Tucker Pans Spencer’s Pan

When I first read the letter from United Artists inviting a represen­tative of the daily Tech to preview the new, English­speaking movie "The Mal­lory Bank", I thought to my­self that this would be just an­other film of "international­ism". The impression was strengthened by the package of pro­motional material thrust into my hands, which lacked the ef­ficient looking usher. I sat back in my seat, expecting the worst. The house lights dimmed, the curtain opened, and my eyes were en­tered by the fresh, bright qual­ity of the photography — a finish­ness which gave the lie to the hackneyed phrases on the "fact sheet". The music for the pro­­motional, with jamie McGregor (Bar­ry Evans) cycling down a Lon­don street with the theme of acci­dent caused by his concentra­tion on an innocent girl instead of on the back end of the train on the road. The problem, as we soon learn, is a common one, but this one Jamie只能 “do you sleep alone while others sleep with theirs?" Poor Jamie is a re­fined virgin, eager to change this status. His friend Spike is one of the "others", and Jamie finds the letter’s success with girls insignificant. Though he would like to form a relationship with a girl, he cannot include sexual intimacy, he is not sure he would like it if the relationship was anything more. But he has to make the choice, and he will know when.

—Debra Lass

Freshmen

Seeking more Infor­mation before making an assortment of decisions, Freshmen. For the next four days (April 19), four are invited to attend a joint Committee on Freshman Affairs (CFA) and Freshman Orientation meeting on Wednesday, April 20. The discussion will be conducted by Professors Anson and Corcoran.

—Jody RJohnson

Glee Club Tours West

The tour began March 17 with a concert at Long Beach City College. The next morning, the concert continued by bus to Palsells Church, a West Coast campus, where the group was recep­tionally received by real live girls. The next two concerts were in the picturesque town of Solvang, where members spent a free after­noon in the Chumash’s Wharf in Monterey.

—David Lewin

—Continued on page 4

Towering Culpal

by Debra Lass

When I first read the letter from United Artists inviting a represen­tative of the daily Tech to preview the new, English­speaking movie "The Mal­lory Bank", I thought to my­self that this would be just an­other film of "international­ism". The impression was strengthened by the package of pro­motional material thrust into my hands, which lacked the ef­ficient looking usher. I sat back in my seat, expecting the worst. The house lights dimmed, the curtain opened, and my eyes were en­tered by the fresh, bright qual­ity of the photography — a finish­ness which gave the lie to the hackneyed phrases on the "fact sheet". The music for the pro­­motional, with jamie McGregor (Bar­ry Evans) cycling down a Lon­don street with the theme of acci­dent caused by his concentra­tion on an innocent girl instead of on the back end of the train on the road. The problem, as we soon learn, is a common one, but this one was over again he applies himself to the task at hand, to be disturbed in the middle of the chase. He never does anything, but chases the dog into the water, then, after much effort, shakes the dog out and, with shake itself dry...

—Debra Lass

The music for the movie was provided by two groups: the Spencer Davis Group, and Steve Winwood and Traffic. Traffic did the title song, which, though com­petent, was not as good as the other one. In addition, the Susan bar­ner, of "What’s New Pussycat?" show has a score for this film that he is a director of nature, and one to be reckoned with in the future. The two later films are half as good as "Here We Go Round The Mulberry Bush", they will merely be brilliant.
More on Draft Law (Continued from page 1) according to their actual age, according to month and day of birth. Married (excl. cadets), over 26, do not seem to receive special consideration. This plan is under review and has not been used as yet.

In the first case, i.e., a draft call without designation of age group, it is unlikely that you will be drafted. In the second case, a draft call with designation of age group, you may expect to be drafted unless you qualify for occupational deferment. Remember also that draft boards may defer men in case of hardship.

Q Can one take a physical examination without volunteering or being drafted, and perhaps get a physical deferment?

A You cannot request an examination through your draft board ahead of time, but it is suggested that you request a physical examination from your own doctor and have the findings transmitted to your draft board. The board may reclassify you 4-F without being classified 1A-first.

Q What happens if you request a 4-F classification and it is not granted? Is it likely that you will be inducted immediately?

A I don’t know. Your draft board will be the judge, but they will presumably follow the rules laid down for the order of induction.

Q Do you have any ideas, if you get drafted after you receive a BS degree, whether or not you will be assigned to a clerical job?

A The Armed Forces have tried to make as much use as possible of the technical talents of the men in their services. Past experience has no bearing on the new situation. If the majority of the draftees are college graduates, not all of them can expect to receive recognition of their special qualifications.

Q If a senior this year should fail to fulfill the requirements for his BS degree, would he be allowed to continue for a fifth year to finish his requirements?

A The regulation is that you must make normal progress toward your degree, which means a BS degree in four years. However, it is up to the draft board as to whether or not (Continued on page 4).

The Book

Well gang, after a long, strenuous sabbatical leave — during which I thoroughly investigated the socio-class stratification and fluidity in such interesting locales as Paris, France; Gary, Indiana; and Tijuana, Mexico — I have returned to Caltech, otherwise known as that wonderful island of manly sanctity and rest admist a sea of revolutionizing, calculating, and sinful women. (Warning: Any Tecker attempting to leave this island will instantly be declared sane and will be interred on the third floor of Altos for observation.)

1 — In case you happen to have the misfortune to be a frosh or an exceptionally pinhead up-preccusassion — you that immortal undergraduate who, for reasons of affection, tradition, and his own protection, is known simply as The Teak.

In the past there have been complaints that my observations tended to favor one House or another. My dear children, I can say is that although I am immortal, I am not omnipotent. I can only report on what I hear about. Thus, to insure that I hear about goings on in all the Houses, I’d like to request anyone who wishes to inform against a friend or enemy to slip a note — anonymously if you wish — containing a report of the alleged deed under the door of the Tech Office in the wee small hours of the night. The line will form on the right side of the hall. All informants for me — The Teak — will henceforth be known as “birds.” Now all you birds — even including Lyndon and Lady — what kind of information do I want?

I have chosen as my goal life to guide Teckers to face the rigors and cruelties of the outside world. I want to show the inhumanities wrought upon men by other men and women, so that I might help Teckers protect their frail and delicate psyches and physiques when they leave these alluring, cloistered walls. In short, I am interested in making Teckers aware of the effiavia which are constantly being flushed down the drain of life. To give you birds an even more concrete grasp of what I am searching for, I fervently hope you will find the right place anyway. We predict that Teckers attempting to leave this island will instantly be declared sane and will be interred on the third floor of Altos for observation.)

2 — In case you happen to have the misfortune to be a frosh or an exceptionally pinhead up-preccusassion — you that immortal undergraduate who, for reasons of affection, tradition, and his own protection, is known simply as The Teak.

In the past there have been complaints that my observations tended to favor one House or another. My dear children, I can say is that although I am immortal, I am not omnipotent.
More Questions Answered on Draft

(Continued from page 3)
A Do you apply for an II-S classification if you have not been in ROTC before? If you have not been in ROTC before, you can apply for an II-S classification at the time you wish to attend.

A If you are already enlisted in the armed forces, can you apply for a II-S classification? You can if you are already enlisted. You must request a II-S classification until the end of your current service but you might receive a I-S (C) classification for the remainder of your enlistment.

A What if you do not qualify for a II-S classification because you have bad eyes, a few toes or fingers missing, etc., but you qualify physically? If you have bad eyes, a few toes or fingers missing, etc., you would be given a II-S classification. If you are already enlisted in the armed forces, you can apply for a II-S classification at the time you wish to attend.

A When do I apply for a II-S classification? You must request a II-S classification at the time you wish to attend.

A Must I have completed a form at the time of my request for a II-S classification? Yes, you must complete Form 54, which is obtained from your local post, on or before the day of your request for a II-S classification.

A If I have been given a II-S classification, does this mean that I will be given a II-4 classification? No, the II-S classification is for those who wish to attend college, a two-year institution, or a four-year institution for a master's degree. The II-4 classification is for those who wish to attend college, a two-year institution, or a four-year institution for a bachelor's degree.

A If you have any questions, contact your local draft board or your local service organization. The American Friends Service Committee (Pasadena) has counsellors available who know the requirement procedures. Contact can be made through the "I."